Youth, 14, Recovering After Furnace Flares

Michael Barry, a Coolidge junior high school ninth grader, continues to show improvement today at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was admitted last week with second and third degree burns to his face, neck, arms and right foot.

The 14-year-old youth sustained the burns in a flash fire from a coal furnace at his home, 1713 Moro avenue, about 9 p.m. Friday. According to his sister, Mrs. Adam Venigh, he has undergone "clean-up" surgery twice to remove burned tissue and a third operation may be required.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael H. Barry, the boy was injured when he opened the door of the coal furnace and accumulated gas fumes exploded in his face. He had banked the furnace just a short time earlier and had turned to check it when the flash fire occurred.

Joey Barry, ten years, who was home alone with his brother, summoned a neighbor for assistance and Mr. and Mrs. Barry arrived home a short time later and took the boy to the hospital.

Michael is not allowed visitors at the present time, his sister explained, but he would enjoy receiving cards from his friends and classmates. He is in Room 414 at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

SAVE YOUR VISION WEEK proclamation being signed for this week by Gov. Kerner and witnessed by Dr. Stanley F. Maer of Granite City, president of the Illinois Optometric Association.

'Save Your Vision' Week Being Observed

Dr. Stanley F. Maer, local optometrist and president of the Illinois Optometric Association, issued advice on vision, for national "Save Your Vision Week" which ends Saturday.

"Many parents enjoy the mistaken belief that a child's eyes are perfect because he has 20/20 vision. However, such children may be handicapped by visual impairments other than the ability to see clearly," Dr. Maer said. He explained these children, even with 20/20 vision, may have problems focusing to distinguish colors and coordinating hand and eye movements.

Dr. Maer cited the child's failure to achieve properly in school as one of the most serious consequences of defective vision. He suggested that parents may not be able to detect many vision problems. He added that poor reading ability or a dislike for it, like losing place while reading or holding reading material closer than normal are indications of vision problems the parents may observe.

"Many school and behavior difficulties could be prevented if a child's vision is professionally examined before he enters the classroom and is checked annually thereafter," Dr. Maer concluded.

Personal Injury Study For Lawyers, Doctors

Southern Illinois lawyers will study the medical aspects of personal injury cases in a course entitled "Basic Personal Injury Law," to be presented Friday and Saturday at the University Center, Southern Illinois University - Southern campus.

Physicians will serve as course instructors, and among the lawyers who will participate are Joseph Davidson and William L. Beatty, both of Granite City.

Attention will focus on practical anatomy, diagnosis and treatment to help lawyers better understand their cases, cooperate more effectively with physicians and be of greater assistance to clients. The course will concentrate on injuries to the face, head, neck and back, which according to statistics are the basis for 80% of litigated negligence and workmen's compensation cases.

Emphasis will be placed upon how often the injury occurs, standard methods of treatment, programs for recovery, residual effects that can be expected, how the injury will affect the normal life of the patient-client, and the areas of difference among doctors on diagnosis, prognosis and treatment.

Scroggin's Office Cannot File Suit For Nameoki Twp.

The office of State's Atty. Leon Scroggin cannot initiate quo warranto proceedings for Nameoki township to challenge Granite City's annexation of the 28-acre Grigsby junior high school site, the town board was informed Tuesday night.

Harry Briggs, supervisor, said Scroggin pointed out in a letter that state statutes did not provide for such actions. Nameoki township has been conducting a course of action designed to invalidate Granite City's action which took place in the school site by also annexing that part of Ponton road leading to the site.

The board referred the matter to Nick Vassileff, township attorney, and Briggs said he will meet with Vassileff to consider the next steps. The township intends to challenge Granite City's authority to annex a tract not contiguous to its boundaries by also annexing the road to reach the site.

Town Funds Invested
Briggs announced during the meeting that $10,000 in town funds have been invested in Granite City bank and noted that it is the first time in the township's history that it has had a surplus to permit such investment.

The money was invested in 90-day certificates that will earn the township several hundreds of dollars in interest.

The funds will be listed as town fund receipts next year in preparation of the township budget and will result in a reduction of the tax rate for town purposes.

The board also discussed briefly a new procedure outlined by the state township official, which requires determination of the salaries of the township highway commissioner and supervisor of assistance.

Briggs in this case — by the town board instead of by electors during the annual town meeting in April.

Unaware of Procedure
Briggs said he was unaware state law required action by the board.

The board also received notice by letter from the tolling authority, City Water District that settlement of a bill in the amount of $1483 for work done by the township highway department on replacement of ditching fill on West Point and Fairway streets in State Park Place will be voided out.

The township highway department refilled and patched ditches dug by the water company for installation of mains. The township had notified the department that unless the highway department was reimbursed for the work and materials, suit would be filed.

The board authorized Eugene Rotter, town tax collector, to hire the same number of employees as he did last year for collection of taxes later this year, and to pay the same hourly rate.

MORE ABOUT $9 Million

St. Louis with two attractive features—a lower total cost estimated at $8,540,000 and government participation in the financing to the extent of $3,680,000, leaving a total of $3,160,000 to be provided in local funds.

In addition to the $6,940,000 in project work set up in the plan, the government would build a new low-water dam on the Cahokia diversion channel where it empties into the Mississippi River at the Chain of Rocks canal.

Estimated cost is $2,500,000. The dam would be bought entirely by the Engineering Corps and would not require local matching funds.

On the basis of data provided by the Army engineers, the levee district report said, the average annual damage in the levee district area is $26,000 due to interior flooding. If the proposed system of controls set up under the hillside drainage program can be built, it was noted, an annual savings of $111,300 could be realized.

Such savings, the report explained, would be in less crop damage, less residential property damage, increased return on farm lands and re-establishment of residential property.

A major phase of the new program provides for new projects in different areas of the district. These proposals, with estimated cost figures, include:

1. Construction of a drainage channel generally paralleling the Alton & Southern Railroad with an outlet into Horseshoe Lake at a cost of approximately $1,050,000—a project, the report said, "will permit the orderly expansion of Granite City and Pontoon Beach within this area. Without the construction of this ditch, these people face a danger of flooding within the immediate future."

2. As an alternate to item one, construction of a storm water sewer along Pontoon Beach into Long Lake at Pontoon Beach. This sewer, when constructed, would necessarily have an outlet to be connected to the existing outlet underneath the railroad tracks which must be enlarged, and the necessary increase in control structures to handle the additional flows into Long Lake lake. The increased size is needed because of the large amount of building in the area and the quicker runoff that is being given Pontoon Beach from the surrounding territory.

Estimated cost is $800,000.

3. A project designed to prevent the flooding of Venice provides for construction of a stormwater trunk sewer approximately 4000 feet in length at a total cost of $175,000. "This project is a must," the report states, "as these people do not have adequate outlet for any large storm conditions."

4. Construction and rehabilitation of the main channel outlet for the village of Cahokia, including the local matching share for rehabilitation of Dead Creek, at

Six Undergo Surgery At Local Hospital

The following underwent surgery at St. Elizabeth Hospital since Monday:

Donald Kramlich, Collinsville; Logan Anglin, 2019 Illinois avenue; Alfred Buchanan, 3023 Marshall avenue; David Wooley, Caseyville; Audrey Mills, 2203 Edna street; John Hutson, 2835 Palmer avenue.

An estimated cost of $440,000.

5. Enlarging and cleaning the ditch running parallel to the Missouri Pacific Railroad northward from the Francis duPont area known as the Oliver Parks subdivision, which was flooded in 1957. Estimated cost is $37,000.

6. Construction of a new pumping station located at the Missouri Pacific tracks in the Cahokia area at an estimated cost of $640,000.

7. Provision for protection of persons in the Canteen Creek area. This would require agreements with the Canteen Creek Drainage district in State Park Place for improvements to drainage canals in that area under the Canteen district control. Cost is estimated at $200,000.

Dredging Work Proposed

Three separate dredging projects also are set up. One provides for dredging of Hardin ditch and Schoenberger ditch at a cost of $280,000. The other call for dredging of the Cahokia canal from the control works on Horseshoe Lake outlet to Highway 162, also including a portion of Canteen Creek, at an estimated cost of $240,000 and the dredging of Cahokia Canal from the Horseshoe Lake control works southwest to the Terminal Railroad Tracks, at a total estimated cost of $290,000.

Tolar pointed out that the levee district, in seeking legislative authority to issue bonds without referendum for the purpose of financing the district's share of the work, will provide that the authorizing bill earmark the funds for the particular projects set out in the report. This would prohibit the district from spending the money for any other purposes.

In addition, Tolar said, the authorizing legislation also would effect only the Hillside drainage project.

Bonding Power Sufficient

Details of the program show that financing of the local share by the levee district will be possible by the end of this fiscal year.

The district has a total assessed valuation of $236,824,542 which provides a bonding power of $13,170,613. Present outstanding bonds total $10,238,000, leaving a current bonding power of $2,932,613.

By the end of this year, however, payments on principal of outstanding bonds will reduce the current debt to $9,493,000 and give the district a bonding power of $3,677,613 as of Dec. 31, 1967, an amount sufficient to fund the local matching share of the drainage project.

Hospital Community Dinner To be Held March 20 at GCHS

Invitations are in the mail this week for the informational community dinner to be held March 20 to outline the multi-million dollar modernization and expansion program planned at St. Elizabeth Hospital and the fund-raising campaign.

Joseph W. Glik, president of the hospital advisory board, said about 700 persons are being invited to hear Dr. Anthony Rourke, noted hospital consultant, set forth the community's hospital needs. The program and dinner will be held at Granite City high school cafeteria.

Reviewing the activities to date relative to the hospital expansion and fund drive, Glik said a luncheon was held Monday for about 40 clergymen and laymen.

Sister Mary Thomas, hospital administrator, outlined the hospital program, and Frank Wheeler and Franklin Rich, campaign directors, explained campaign procedures.

The clergymen set aside April 30 to be Hospital Sunday.

At the March 20 community dinner, a report will be made on pledges from the hospital "family" which includes employees, the auxiliary, the citizen advisory board and the medical staff.

A brochure explaining the proposed expansion will be distributed. The dinner is to be informational only, and no solicitations will be made.

DOWN THE STACK VIEW of the electrostatic precipitators which will enable Granite City Steel's new basic oxygen steel-making plant to meet high standards for air pollution abatement. The precipitators are the largest ever to be installed in the two-state area and are designed to remove more than 99% of the dust from the furnace exhaust gases.

The dust-laden gas will come from the furnaces in the big waste gas main which angles down from the right of the photo. The dust will be precipitated or separated from the gas as it flows through a series of narrow lanes or channels between collecting electrodes.

After almost 5 seconds in the precipitators, the cleaned gas will leave through the stack in the foreground which is 18 feet in diameter and 160 feet high. The new plant will begin operating later this year.

Two Warriors on All-League Team

Wrestling Warriors Set Records; 9 End Careers

Ron Burton and Tom Parker, both of Collinsville, have been named as players on the Press-Record's fourth annual All-Southwestern Conference basketball team.

Sharing first-team honors with them are Terry Moore and Jim Hentzel, both of Granite City, and John Loggrosso, of East St. Louis.

The team was selected by the conference coaches. In the balloting, two points were awarded for first-place nominations and one point for second-team selections.

Second Team

Members of the second team are Ray Wiley of Belleville West, Tom Dezort and Jim Jackson, both of Edwardsville, Ivan Busch of East St. Louis and two cagers who tied for the fifth position, Dennis Arnold of Collinsville and Randy Houston of Wood River.

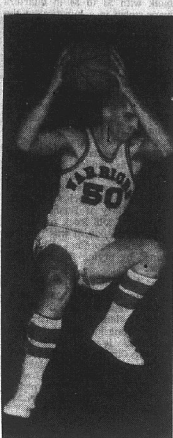

Coaches taking part in selection of the team were Ralph Sackett of Granite City, Vergil Fletcher of Collinsville, Ralph Sterrett of Alton, Bob Gregor of Edwardsville, Dave Shanahan of Belleville West, Dick Dehnert of East St. Louis and Norris Morsey of Wood River.

Moore, Parker and Burton were unanimous choices (coaches voted for players on teams other than their own). Loggrosso was one vote shy of being a unanimous selection, and Hentzel missed by only two votes.

Four Seniors, One Junior
Standing 6' 4", Moore, has been acclaimed by some as the "best all-around player" in the recent Edwardsville regional tournament. Along with the other warrior co-captain, Hentzel (6' 0"), he sparked Granite City to its first state championship.

Both are seniors. Moore averaged 18 points a game and Hentzel 19 points. Hentzel was accorded honorable mention on the all-conference team last year.

In 22 games, Moore sank 133 field goals and 70 free throws

Richard Jones Bowls 298 Game

Richard Jones, owner of Rich's Auto Body Co., 1302 Edwardsville road, bowled a near perfect game, totaling 298 pins at the Brunswick Tri-Mor lanes Monday night.

Besides receiving a shoulder patch for his bowling shirt proclaiming him a member of the 250-plus club, he will receive his choice of a number of gifts from the American Bowling Congress for his bowling prowess.

If Jones would have tipped two more pins he would have received $300 from Brunswick Tri-Mor.

Jones, who bowls on a team he sponsors, called the 298 pins while competing in the Monday Businessmen's league on Lanes 9 and 10.

Again this season, the Granite City high school wrestling Warriors set new individual and team records in the mat world.

As a team, the Warriors placed 10th in the Illinois state wrestling tournament, scoring 15 points.

It was the sixth time in the past seven years that the Warriors have finished in the top 10 teams in the state. They won only 10 points from the 25-point total scored by the 1967 state tournament winner, Rock Island. GCBS won its 14th consecutive sectional meet title to the Proviso East's record of 14 straight sectional wins established through 1953.

23rd Sectional Title
It was the 23rd time that a warrior team won a sectional title since 1939, a record unmatched by any high school in Illinois.

The Warriors won their 10th straight district team title with 129 points to runnerup Roxana's 63, and were Southwestern Conference champions with an 8-0 record, their 10th straight league wrestling title.

Granite City won team titles at the Ritenour and Hazelwood invitational tournaments, and at its own quadrangular tourney.

The Warriors were second at Pekin and third in their own holding tournament, won by Decatur.

Missouri Co-Champs

The 1966-67 Warriors boast a dual meet record of 12 wins, two losses and two ties, included among their victims were the 1967 Missouri state co-champion Northwest high school of St. Louis, downed by the Warriors 14-0.

The two losses were to Waukegan and North Chicago. North Chicago was 14-0 for the season, and was champion of the North-West Suburban league.

The Warriors won 278 individual matches—121 by pins. They lost 132 (17 by pins) and drew in nine matches.

Outstanding was Bill Fuchs, who won the 163-pound state championship. Fuchs became the first warrior to win a state title since George Nemeth won the state championship in 1958.

State Record by Fuchs: 37-7 by falls, and lost three (two star) as a sophomore and one as a junior, scoring 491 points.

Twenty-eight of his victories were scored in Illinois High School Association tournaments and two of his defeats were in state championship final matches.

Survey of Available Labor to Help Attract New Industry

Efforts of this metropolitan region to attract new industry are being hampered by a lack of accurate data on the availability of labor, Donald G. Dunshie, Regional Industrial Development Corp. planner, told Madison county editors and school superintendents at a luncheon Tuesday at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

To provide such data, RIDC this week launched a comprehensive survey, covering an eight-county area of Illinois and Missouri.

Key to the survey is a labor availability questionnaire, printed elsewhere on this page. A slightly different form is being distributed directly to graduating high school seniors in the Quad-Cities and elsewhere.

CLIP, FILL OUT, MAIL
RIDC asks that the preliminary application form be clipped from the Press-Record and filled out by all persons between the ages of 17 and 50 who might be interested in obtaining future employment with new firms moving into this region.

Completed forms are to be mailed to RIDC at the Pierre Laclede Building, 701 Forsyth blvd., Clayton, Mo. 63105, not later than March 20.

All preliminary applications are to be processed and held in strict confidence. The information will be published only in statistical form.

Results This Spring
The survey will show by about May 1 the quality and quantity of the available labor force, prevailing wage scales, available skills, labor affiliations, commuting patterns of the work force, and vocational-technical programs available.

Findings are expected to be valuable not only to RIDC but to other community development groups, railroads, etc., in convincing firms considering locating here that there is an extensive pool of skilled and semi-skilled manpower in this area.

"We are asking applicants to sign their names," Dunshie explained, "to avoid duplications and so that we may keep the names on file for future reference by firms moving into this area when they begin to interview and hire."

Full Participation Sought
"We hope to obtain the greatest possible number of completed applications, and urge everyone interested to fill out a copy of the survey form and send it to us."

"The first question most firms ask us is about the quantity, quality and availability of workers and their skills. Such information has simply not been available before," Dunshie said. "We know of instances in which plants studying this area have located in other communities where they know a labor pool exists. After all, no management wants to invest several million dollars in a new plant and then discover they can't hire the people to operate it."

"We hope to provide these companies with the facts they need, if the unemployed and underemployed men and women of this region respond by sending in completed forms."

Parked Auto Scrapped
While pulling into a parking place, an auto driven by Donna June Whittaker, 208 Iowa street, scraped the left side of the parked auto of Vernon Collins, 1911 Grand avenue, at 10th street and Cleveland blvd., at 3:25 p.m. Tuesday.

Engine Blocks Highway
A Terminal Railroad switch engine jumped the tracks at the A. O. Smith Corp. plant, blocking Highway 3 for a short period, it was reported at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday. The city street department set up barricades but had them removed before noon.

Accident at School
Autos driven by Kathleen Wyatt, 2473 Center street, and Thurma McFarson, 40 Lou Jan. Hills, collided at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday on Granite City high school's rear parking lot.

The bonds will be retired by payments on a monthly fee basis charged against residents of community areas served by the plant. Venice and Madison residents have been paying an average $115 minimum monthly fee, without service, for the past year. Advance payment of rental fees was necessary in the original bond ordinance to provide funds necessary to meet the first payment of principal and interest due on the bonds.

The board authorized payments of $35,353 to the Keeley Bros. Contracting Co. of East St. Louis for labor and materials on the treatment plant project, $350 to the Horner & Shiffrin engineering firm for engineering services on the project, and to the Lakeside Engineering Co. the amount of $697, also for engineering work.

The board also approved payment of claims amounting to $33,353 during February and March. February payroll of $42,442.

URGENT LABOR AVAILABILITY SURVEY

This is an important survey being conducted for the purpose of supplying data to industries which might move into the St. Louis metropolitan area if the kind of workers they require are available.

If you are between 17 and 50, male or female, and if you are available for work or are working now but might be available at a later date, you are urged to fill out the questionnaire below and mail it to the St. Louis Regional Development Corporation, 7701 Forsyth, Clayton, Mo., 63105. All information will be held in strictest confidence. The form must be completed and returned by March 20, 1967.

Madison-Venice Sewage Service Starts in Week

Disposal of sewage from Madison and Venice through the new Lansdowne sewage treatment plant is expected to get under way next week. A. L. Kraemer, chief engineer of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District told the board of trustees in a meeting yesterday.

Kraemer said the new treatment plant and connecting lines that will serve the Madison-Venice area as well as a number of other communities "is pretty well along," and that the pumps at the Venice pumping station will be started sometime next week.

Service to other areas in and around East St. Louis will not begin until sewage in a connecting line with the Swift & Co. plant at National City can be cleared out, Kraemer said.

The treatment plant, pumping stations and sewage lines connecting the communities with the plant have been built at a cost of approximately $1,800,000 obtained through the sale of revenue bonds.

The bonds will be retired by payments on a monthly fee basis charged against residents of community areas served by the plant. Venice and Madison residents have been paying an average $115 minimum monthly fee, without service, for the past year.

The meeting was opened and closed with prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. Virginia Webb.

Easter bonnets made by the members from scraps around their homes were displayed, and Mrs. Ruth Johnson was awarded the prize for the most attractive and original.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Webb, and plans were made for the next meeting Tuesday, April 11 instead of April 4, due to the election on that date.

B&PW Elects Mrs. Batson As President for 1967-68

Mrs. Mary E. Batson, 3117 Aubrey avenue, a teacher at the Olin Vocational School, Alton, was elected president of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club Monday evening. She succeeds Mrs. Nina Bigley.

Others elected for 1967-68 are: Mrs. Florine Reed, first vice-president; Mrs. Ruby Jackson, second vice-president; Mrs. Maxine Grissman, recording secretary; Mrs. Emylee Alford, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Rebecca Slate, treasurer; and three-year board members, Mrs. Florence Spahr, Mrs. Pauline Weis and Mrs. Lela Leslie Meyer.

The members met in the office of Illinois Power Co., with Mrs. Bigley presiding. Mrs. Helene Bischoff, co-chairman of the nominating committee, presented the officer slate.

Plans were completed for the club's annual "Bosses' Night" dinner next Wednesday at the Rose Bowl, when members and their guests will pay special tribute to Mrs. Catherine Michel of Michel's Gift Shop. She recently was selected "Woman of Achievement in Business."

At the "bosses' night" event, Miles Raymond McClune, senior development technician for McDonnell Aircraft Corp., will present a film and program on "Learning to Walk in Space."

McClune, a former U. S. Navy parachute rigger chief and jump master, performed the space walk simulations seen by millions of network television viewers during the recent Gemini missions. In addition to the film, the technician also will display space equipment.

Plans were completed for local B&PW members to participate in a legislative conference on Saturday, March 18, in Springfield. State senators and other legislators are expected to attend the workshops and an informal coffee hour.

Club members authorized a donation of $200 to the Granite City Scholarship Foundation and continued compilation of a history book to record activities of the local chapter. Mrs. Ruth Gaver, historian, announced the book will be submitted to the state federation for display and bidding at the annual convention April 6-9 at Chicago.

Mrs. Bigley reported on attendance of several local B&PW offi-

Youth Focus

400 Youths to be Hired in Summer By Highway Dept.

(Additional Youth Focus on Pages 31 and 32)

Manning on Dean's List

Michael P. Manning, son of Mrs. Irma Manning, 2021 Illinois, Madison, has been placed on the dean's list at Villanova University, Villanova, Pa., for attaining a high academic average during the first semester of the academic year.

Principals of high schools throughout Illinois have details of the employment program, Lorenz added, and similar class students are urged to consider the plan. Applications of interested students should be received by District Engineers of the Division of Highways by March 27.

To be considered, an applicant must send a transcript of his scholastic record from the high school principal. This must include information regarding a complete listing of courses and grades, class standing and potential ability.

Half of the 400 candidates selected for employment under the program will take an engineering technician training course at the University of Illinois during the summer of 1967, starting

June 11 for 11 weeks. Tuition will be paid by the division of highways, and the others will be assigned to highway construction projects this summer and sent to the university for special studies in the summer of 1968.

Students and those assigned to construction projects will receive stipends of $300 a month at the start of the program. This will be increased to $400 a month after 11 weeks, which is when the first training course will be completed.

Lorenz said the program will provide career opportunities in highway work for those selected.

Promotions to higher level positions will be available after additional technical training and experience and with satisfactory work performance.

JAYNE DULGEROFF DONNA DOLLAR JUDY POGORELAC

GOOD CITIZENSHIP AWARD WINNERS honored by the Drusilla Andrews chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at a tea Sunday are Jayne Dulgeroff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Dulgeroff, 3902 Franklin avenue; Judy Pogorelac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Pogorelac, 716 Iowa street, Madison; and Donna Dollar, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Dollar, 1251 Klein street, Venice.

Vocal Concert Planned At GCHS Next Week

The vocal music department of Granite City high school will present a concert at 8 p.m. next Thursday in the school auditorium under the direction of Warren Simpkins. Admission is free.

Providing the program will be the Sophomore Mixed Chorus, Girls Glee Club and the seventh-hour Mixed Chorus.

The programs will open with "Born to be Free," by the combined choruses. Other selections will include "From Gay Vienna," "No and My Shadow" and "No Man is an Island."

A second vocal concert of the spring season will be held April 27.

Nameoki Township $176,765 Budget Is Up $8790

A new township operating budget and appropriation of $176,765 for the 1967-68 year was posted this week for public inspection by Nameoki township. The new budget shows an increase of $8,790 over last year's figure of $167,975.

Making up the total is the sum of $45,720 in the town fund, down $250 from last year's $45,970; $24,045 in the general assistance fund, up $2000 from the $32,045 appropriated last year; $5500 in the Municipal Retirement fund down $900 from last year; $40,325 in the regular road and bridge fund, compared to $40,085 last year, and $53,927 in the permanent road fund.

The permanent road fund is a special account whose appropriation is fixed under state law by applying a rate of 16.7 cents per $100 assessed valuation against the total valuation of the township. The permanent road fund is established by approval of the electors with a renewal vote required every five years.

Generally Unchanged
Items in the town fund budget generally are unchanged from those of last year. An item of $150 for thistle elimination and $2000 item for purchase of assessors records which were in last year's budget are not included in the new appropriation. Costs of miscellaneous services, including auditing, legal, rabies control and town inspectors fees are unchanged from last year. Only exception was adoption in this year's budget of $3500 for mosquito abatement, an item not in last year's appropriation.

A $2500 item for the Southwest, Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, included in last year's budget for planning services, is not included in this year.

The increase of $2000 in this year's budget of the general assistance fund was confined to the food account for home relief. It is set for $15,000 this year. Last year it was $13,000. Other relief items are the same, including hospitalization at $175, institutional care at $1000, and administration costs at $8510.

In the road and bridge fund the $240 increase in this year's budget is for office help in the administration account, raised from $399 last year to $639 this year.

Housing

Developing development is bounded by Market road, Edwards street, a cemetery and railroad property. When the street improvement program is completed, the parking space along Market road, a severe shortage is anticipated, prompting parking of vehicles on side streets in the vicinity.

Manufacturers Vote to Oppose Junior College

The board of directors of the Manufacturers Association of the Quad-Cities yesterday to reverse its stand and will oppose the formation of a Junior College District for the Quad-Cities on the basis that ample vocational training is available here.

President A. P. Steinhauer said local business leaders are meeting the technical and vocational needs of local industries.

The board cited current tax rate increases for other purposes, the possibility of a state fiscal imbalance, public school and SIU-SW technical training opportunities, and the distance to the Quad-Cities if a junior college site was located centrally in the proposed district.

Possible addition of East St. Louis to the district would add costs without a corresponding increase in the property tax base, it was noted.

The potential local junior college tax burden might equal what it would cost to directly finance a complete college education for hundreds of Quad-City students annually, but instead would provide only two years of college for a smaller number, the college concluded.

State Capitol NEWS

For 'Jump' Motorists

Motorists who watch for the yellow light intended for cross traffic in order to "get the jump" on the green signal may soon discover that the only light visible is the one controlling their own lane of traffic.

New signals installed recently at the intersection of U. S. 60 and Business 66 south of Springfield feature an optically designed beam that can be shaped to cover a specific area or lane. To motorists in other lanes the signal appears completely dark during daylight hours.

The beam from the optically modified traffic signal can be controlled to extremely close tolerances. It can actually be shaped so as to cover a specific area.

Help Teenage Daughters With Self-Improvement Program

Now is an excellent time to help your figure-conscious teenage daughter start a self-improvement program.

A young girl's figure may affect the way she feels and acts, the friends she makes and the fun she gets from life.

Discuss the matter with your doctor. He can tell if you are in good physical condition, the number of calories to include in your diet, and the amount of exercise that is desirable.

Keep a two-day food diary and calculate the calories. This record will be the basis from which to start building your own food plan to achieve the figure you want. Take off weight slowly. A pound or two a week is plenty.

Exercise regularly. Exercise uses calories and helps control weight. The more calories you use, the more food you can eat and the greater your choice of foods.

Choose low calorie foods in your diet. Avoid added fats, gravies, sauces, fried foods, fatty meats, sweets, pastries, cookies, cakes and soft drinks.

Budget your calories to take care of special party meals. Count on snacks to supply food values, too.

Eat an adequate breakfast. You are less likely to overeat at other meals when you have had a good breakfast.

Be patient. Remember that extra pounds are added slowly and come off just as slowly.

What's Behind Rising Cost of Food

As every homemaker knows, the cost of food shopping has been increasing steadily. In the past 10 years, the U. S. Department of Agriculture affirms, the rise has totaled 19%.

But, where is this increase going? What is behind rising food costs?

Increasing efficiency in moving food products from farmers to consumers is a "critical" issue in holding the line on food costs, says Assistant Secretary of Agriculture George L. Mehren.

Dr. Mehren, who heads USDA's marketing and consumer services, points out that, while homemakers are feeling this 13% cost increase, the farm value of the food in their market baskets is no higher. In fact it is "virtually no higher today" than 20 years ago. The balance is accounted for by an increase in the marketing share of food dollars.

However, it is not strictly going into the middleman's pocket. Food marketing profits appear not to have increased enough to be a major contributor to rising food prices.

An important reason behind this increase is food buyers' own demands for better services. Shoppers want a whole range of services, from prepared foods, such as TV dinners, to good parking facilities and more attractive stores.

In fact, studies indicate that when income increases, consumers buy more services than more food. A 10% increase in income, for example, boosts the demand for food goods only 2 to 3 percent. It generates demand for marketing services 3 or 4 times as fast as demand for food.

The volume of food marketing services has increased by 117% since 1940. During the same time the volume of food marketed has expanded only 70%.

Rising costs have been a "major factor" contributing to the increase in marketing charges, too, Dr. Mehren explains. Labor costs comprise over 40% of the marketing bill. Earnings of food marketing employees have increased about 4% per year during the past decade. Output, however, has not kept up with this, thus labor costs really are up about 9% in the past 10 years.

Most other services bought by food marketing firms have risen in cost also. Rent, property insurance and maintenance and telephone service all cost about 20% more than they did 10 years ago. New plants and equipment rose about 8% in the past 20 years.

winter, generally six to eight weeks before normal blooming. Clip long branches from shrubs carefully so that the permanent shape of the bush will not be ruined.

To encourage flowering, Mr. Foster gives these suggestions: Split the stems of the branches or pound them to help them absorb water. Place the branches in a deep container of warm water (about 65° to 70° F.). Keep in a semi-cool area with moderate light and as high a humidity as possible until the flowers appear. To supply additional moisture, spray or dampen the branches daily. A small hand sprayer or laundry sprinkler is a handy tool for this process. Change the water every few days. And once a week cut one-half inch from the base of the stems, preferably at an angle.

To speed up flowering, plunge the stems daily into hot water (100° to 110° F.), and let the water cool naturally.

If the flowers are coming too fast, move them to a cooler room. But avoid abrupt changes.

New Finish for Cotton

At last, cotton fabrics can now be given a permanent press that lasts—and lasts—and lasts. There's never been much trouble in putting the press in wash-and-wear or in keeping it there.

The problem has been in its wearability. Now, a new finishing method gives permanent creases in cotton fabrics twice the life they used to have. It involves a two-step process that first locks the chemicals in the fabric (for more abrasion resistance), then puts in the wash-and-wear.

Pants cuffs made of cotton sateen and treated with the experimental process can withstand twice as many washings as those treated by currently used methods. The scientists don't exactly know why it all happens. But they're glad it does.

Keep It Cool. Planning to install a waste disposer—or do you already have one? Either way, you'll be interested in this tip. Be sure to run the cold water tap while operating the grinder. The water carries away the waste. The cold solidifies fats so that they may be chopped up and flushed away.

If you use hot water, melted fat goes down the drain where it congeals to coat and clog the pipes.

SOCIETY

Junior Service Easter Project

Miss Flora Mae Lansing was hostess Monday evening to the executive board of the Granite City Junior Service club in her home, 2804 Washington avenue. Principal topic was the annual Easter charity project.

Mrs. Rena James, president, conducted the meeting and reports were submitted by officers. A note of thanks was received from Mrs. Evelyn Morris for a gift and farewell party.

Mrs. Bernice Fitzpatrick will serve as chairman of the Easter project, aided by Mrs. Charlene Pehlman, Mrs. Mary Schaffner and Miss Margie Greendorn. Hams and other food will be delivered to the needy.

A final discussion was held on fashion show to be held at Granite City high school. Next club meeting is planned for March 20 at the civil defense building. Hostesses will be Mrs. Jo Anne Gaumer, Mrs. Jean Ann Vrenick, Miss Helen Parsagagian and Miss Lansing.

Mrs. Kathy Goclan will entertain the board April 10. Others present were Miss Parsagagian and Misses Schaffner, Fitzpatrick, Eva Burns, Audrey Jaro, Candy Kawula, Vrenick and Goclan.

Bonnie Taylor Is Honoree

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Taylor, 4069 Vesco avenue, entertained guests at a party last night in the rathskeller of their home in honor of the fifth birthday of their daughter, Bonnie.

Decorations of pink and white were used and there was a clown birthday cake.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ethridge and daughters, Tena and Sheri, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Berry and daughter, Caren, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Petras, Deedee and Barbie Mathem, Tony Michael and Rita Vesco, Hope Howells, the honoree, her brother Raymond Taylor, Jr., and friends.

Refreshments were served and during the evening the guest of honor received a birthday message by phone from her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Vesco, who are vacationing in Florida.

$15,315 Bill List Okd by GC Council

A $15,315 bill list and a $43,398 half-month payroll were approved Monday night by Granite City council members.

Alderman Nunn questioned the $405 cost of 700 fifty-pound bags of lime for the sewage treatment plant, and asked that a review of the cost be made before the next purchase.

Nunn said he handles lime at Standard Oil Refinery where he works, and that he was certain a lower cost could be obtained. The bill list also included payments of $1945 to East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. for February street lighting.

Rezoning for Car Wash Is Requested in GC

Referred to the City Plan Commission by the Granite City council Monday night was a request by Andrew Rapoff and Walter Rozky for rezoning four lots on the southeast corner of Nameoki road and East 23rd street for a coin-operated car wash.

The property, which is at 2229-28 Nameoki road and 2083 East 23rd street, surrounds an existing service station. The request is for zoning to be changed under the special use permit section of the zoning law from R-2 residential to C-1 commercial.

Later Monday night, the council approved an amendment to the zoning code requiring council approval and permits for establishment of automatic car wash and laundromat businesses. Action on a denial by the zoning appeals board for a variance for Norman Alexander, 2637 State street, was deferred by the council to permit aldermen to inspect the premises. An addition to a home extending less than two feet from the property line was planned.

Alderman Green called for the legal staff to begin action for condemnation and raising of the old Mirlic Products Co. building, 24th and Adams streets, and a vacant house with a basement filled with water at 730 Twenty-sixth street.

Fined $320, Costs

Carol E. Johnson, 37, of 2251 Washington avenue, was fined $300 plus $5 costs on a charge of driving while intoxicated and another $20 plus $5 costs for careless driving in magistrate's court Tuesday. The charges were filed during the weekend by Granite City police, after a car driven by Johnson hit a parked car in the 1700 block of State street.

West Pontoon Road Paving May be Scheduled for Spring

Improvement of West Pontoon road from the railroad crossing west to the city limits is expected to be included in the bidding for the south Nameoki road project, Mayor Partney advised Granite City council members Monday night.

Plans for the improvement which would eliminate the steep approach on the west side of the tracks, are nearing completion, but the city cannot clear all legal aspects for acquisition of right-of-way. The mayor noted that the sudden increase in legal work has swamped the city's legal staff.

Not only are they working to get all legal data for the south Nameoki road right-of-way, he said, but also the frontage roads along Federal Aid Route 151 in West Granite, the legal entanglements of the forthcoming city election and routine city business.

May 29 Bidding

Partney said he had conferred with Robert Kronst, district highway engineer, who is pleased with the progress being made by the city. Street Committee Chairman Sternberg said the goal is to be ready for the state to call for bids on May 29 for the widening and improvement work from Madison avenue to Edwardsville road.

Both he and Mayor Partney conferred with state highway officials and General Contracting Co. to remedy a drainage problem at Nameoki road and St. Clair avenue in connection with the north Nameoki road improvement and were assured the problem would be handled.

Sternberg added that a National Foods Store official is to confer with the city this week on a remedy for the low street bottom at Nameoki road at the rear of the store.

The city has several engineering designs for correcting the problem.

Alderman Fry asked that the city's right-of-way negotiator for the south Nameoki road project attend the next council session to get a detailed report. Alderman Partney asked that the committee look into a report that the sidewalk on the east side of the roadway at East-24th street is to be dropped nine inches. "Maybe the design can be changed so that the city can slope the sidewalk rather than have such an abrupt step," Partney suggested.

Successful Drainage

Council members expressed satisfaction with a drainage line installed in the 3000 block of Madison avenue where a large puddle formed with each rain. However, there was disagreement over the amount of the contract with A. H. Seebold Co., as Alderman Bartusiek thought it had been limited to $1575, while the actual cost was $1945. He asked for the cost figures to be reviewed.

The state highway department will be asked again to review the city's motor fuel tax fund status to determine if roadways can be improved off Nameoki road for half-block distance on Garfield, Cottage, Lindell and Clark avenues. The projects were slated for bid last year, but the city's MFT fund reserve was too low. Alderman Johnson pointed out enforcement of the city law which requires trucks to clean mud off vehicle wheels before driving onto city streets, and Alderman Green called for a study for a 15 mph speed limit on Adams street. He said the residents are complaining that heavy trucks and buses are speeding and upon hitting holes in the roadways are causing damage to homes.

Load Limit, Stop Signs

A fifteen-ton limit on Pershing avenue east of Nameoki road also was requested, along with stop signs on Ohio avenue at West-22nd street.

An ordinance was adopted to place yield signs on Kilarney avenue at O'Hare avenue.

Permission was given the street department to remove sections of a large tree from private property at 2921 Pershing avenue, where a tree contractor had cut down the tree and then failed to haul it away. Moerlen explained the property owner, a pensioner, had paid for the work in advance. A police check determined the contractor had left the area. Moerlen pointed out children are rolling the sections into the streets, causing a hazardous condition.

GC Police Car Bids Under Study

Referred to the Granite City council's Police Committee Monday night were two bid proposals for six police patrol cars. The bids amounts were $879 by Mathews Chevrolet Co. and $1,330 by B. E. Hohl, Inc., for Ford. The totals would vary, depending on trades-in by the city and alternates on installation of top-car flasher lights. Both bids were based on trade-in of five 1966 patrol cars and a 1965 model, with alternates should the city decide to trade a 1962 model instead of the 1965 into use by the detective force. Council members also approved a request by Police Chief Ronald Veitner for two officers to attend a "major case course" to be given March 20-25 at the St. Louis Police Academy.

Expense allowances of $30 each were granted Detective Michael Devine and Patrolman Robert Astorian. Alderman Whitmer, chairman of the Police committee, reported a patrol car damaged in an accident last week had been repaired at a cost of $244 on a low bid submitted by Andy & Johnny's Auto Repair Shop. Other bids ranged to $482.

Hit-and-Run Accident

An auto driven by Mrs. Madonna Greshong, 1231 Klein street, Venice, was damaged in the right front Monday by a hit-and-run driver as she was headed north in the 400 block of Broadway, Venice.

Assembly Hits Stride--Con-Con Report on File

The Illinois General Assembly was swinging into the peak stride of its current session today as a mounting volume of legislative measures and commission reports outstripped that of any comparable period in previous biennial assemblies.

Attracting particular attention is the introduction of a series of bills that would change election dates for city elections throughout the state, with exception of about 30 specially chartered municipalities, all of which are small cities. The Constitutional Study Commission also has submitted its report, calling for a constitutional convention to modernize the state's constitution, it outlines in detail procedure for calling and conducting the convention.

Senate approval of a bill increasing the number of state teaching scholarships from 250 to 500 a year and House passage of a state minimum wage bill setting a minimum wage of $1.25, were among legislative measures clearing the first hurdle in both branches of the assembly. The Senate turned down a plea from a group of downstate county officials for revision of a bill requiring appointment of county assessors.

Would Change April Date

Among the new city election bills is one that would have cities hold municipal elections on mission report which also urges that, if the matter is placed on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November in the odd-numbered years. The primary amendment should be placed on the same ballot. A two-thirds majority vote would be required in both houses of the legislature to place the matter on a ballot. If the convention call were approved two delegates from each senatorial district, a total of 118, would be elected at a convention called under rules adopted by the 1969 General Assembly, if the people approved the call next year.

Many Changes Needed

The convention study revealed that many changes are needed in the 1870 Illinois constitution, according to State Rep. Marjorie (R) Riverdale, chairman of the commission. The proposed $1.25 per hour minimum wage bill was approved by the house by a vote of 124 to 38.

The measure now goes to the Senate where similar proposals passed by the House in two previous sessions were killed in committee. The bill would exempt agriculture and domestic workers, public employees, outside salesmen, employees of religious organizations and mentally and physically handicapped.

Provides More Scholarships

The Senate approved by a 38 to 1 vote the bill providing more state teaching scholarships for adults. Sen. Esther Superstein (D) Chicago, sponsor of the bill, domestic and foreign business pointed out that applicants for the scholarships have exceeded the number available. She noted that Illinois now faces a shortage of 400 teachers. Among other actions, the Senate ratified by 45 to 0 the amendment to the U.S. Constitution providing for a succession procedure in event the President or Vice-President are unable to carry out their duties.

The bill before the Senate for amendment of the Bill requiring appointment of county assessors was rejected following a debate in which objections were posed to proposal of adding the office to election ballot.

The bill would make it mandatory for county boards of supervisors to appoint supervisors of assessors or county assessors in counties which do not have elected boards of assessors. This would include Madison county, but exclude St. Clair county.

Record John-Manville

1966 Sales, Earnings

The John-Manville Corp. in 1966 set records in sales and earnings while continuing expansion and diversification, it was being announced at the John-Manville Products' Corp., 1226 Biwell street, Venice. Sales reached $312 million and net earnings $38 million.

The annual report shows that the company had a decline in home construction and postponement of many water and sewer projects was offset by a general increase in activity, higher selling prices and high levels of commercial

S/Sgt. Donald Keel Receives Honors

S/Sgt. Donald R. Keel, 33, stationed at Pease Air Force Base, N. H., with the 8th Medical Group, was elected PRIDE (Professional Results for Daily Effort) for the year by the Medical Group. He was previously selected as PRIDE NCO of the month and the quarter. S. Keel, who has been in service 16 years, voluntarily assumed the additional responsibility for the complete management of the night shift, which according to the commander of the Medical Squadron section, required extensive knowledge of administration management and medical procedures and disaster control operations during non duty hours. In this capacity he excelled and was also nominated for the Base Airman of the Year award. He received a three-day pass, a letter of recognition and a $25 U. S. Savings Bond.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Keel, 2502 East 27th street. The Keels have two other sons in service: Lt. Col. Larry D. Keel with the 2nd Marine Corps in Vietnam, and a 3rd Dale L. Keel, a medical student at Sheppard Air Force Base in Texas.

Seed to be Sown In 'Quiet Park'

Seeding the 10-acre "quiet park" in East Granite at an estimated cost of $300 was approved Monday night by council members.

The request was made by Mayor Partney, who commented that if grass seed is not sown immediately, the weeds will take over again in the old cemetery tracts adjacent to Kirkpatrick Homes.

Partney said he would arrange for the work.

Illinois Veterans Got $306,847,800 Benefits in 1966

Illinois veterans and their families received a total of $306,847,847 in cash benefits and services during the fiscal year of 1966, the Veterans Administration reported today. This is almost $9,000,000 more than the $298,116,546 distributed in the same programs the preceding year, according to John B. Naser, manager of VA's Regional Office in Chicago.

The comparison was made from an outline of expenditures in the 1966 annual report of the VA just released.

In Illinois, 135,387 living veterans received service-connected disability compensation or non-service pensions totaling $124,380,964. In addition, dependents of 61,753 deceased veterans received $50,229,660. The combined $174,610,644 in the past year compared with $166,194,145 in 1965 and reflected increases approved by Congress, Mr. Naser explained. Total beneficiaries in 1966 increased from 196,988 in 1965 to 197,340.

Insurance Dividends
I insurance dividends and indemnity payments last year totaled $44,570,432 compared with $44,145,843 the preceding year.

Impact of the new GI Bill was not reflected in the report, Naser said, in listing totals for veterans education and training along with vocational training for disabled veterans. An average of 150 disabled veterans daily received specialized assistance costing $838,236. For the first time the report did not take note of GI trainees under the world war II and the Korean GI Bills, since most of these trainees have used their entitlement.

The report does show, however, that 358 sons and daughters of deceased or totally disabled veterans went to school in Illinois with VA assistance. Smaller benefits programs accounted for another $1,525,161. Assistance to seriously disabled veterans in buying autos costs $130,486; housing suitable for paraplegics accounted for $130,809; and direct loans to veterans unable to obtain home financing totaled $1,544,175.

Hospital Construction
A total of $5,386,927 was spent on construction and maintenance at the six hospitals in the state. Large replacement and modernization programs are under way at Danville and Illinois VA hospitals.

Hospitalization costs were grouped with administration costs for all benefits and totaled $79,236,689, an increase of almost $2,000,000 over the preceding year.

City Says 'No' to 'Federal Desk' in St. Louis $153,878 Balance In Relief Fund For GC Township

Disatisfaction with several federal Development Act of 1966, council members voted not to set up a "federal desk" in St. Louis, but rather to determine if a metropolitan council could not be named for the Madison-St. Clair county area. A letter protesting Granite City's inclusion in the central city plan with St. Louis as the federal hub is to be sent to W. W. Collins, regional administrator for the Housing and Urban Development Agency at Fort Worth, Tex. Mayor Barnett is to write the reply in response to a request by HUD for the city to express its sentiment.

$2 vs. $1.50
In the other matter, the council agreed to set a pay rate of $1.50 an hour for a part-time clerk-typist for the civil defense office. Mrs. Evelyn Holmes, who retired recently, had been receiving $2 an hour.
Hired for the job was Mrs. Carol Ward, who is to work a six-hour day, three days a week, clerkman Boyd commented. "I thought the federal government was trying to upgrade such jobs."
Alderman Rutledge explained that the $1.50 figure had been set by the federal government, and the city must comply to be eligible for matching federal funds for civil defense purposes.

Placed on first reading were one-year engineering contract renewal with Research Planning & Design Associates for consultant and motor fuel tax project services.
Alderman Fry asked if the consulting engineering contract should not specify an individual for the job of providing 40 hours service a month for a minimum cost of $300. The city attorney was asked to review the contract before the March 20 council session.

Sp/4 Brett Bjorkman Promoted in Germany
Brett E. Bjorkman, U. S. Army, son of Mrs. Helen Bjorkman, 2318 Waterman avenue, Houston, Tex., recently was promoted to Specialist Fourth Class while serving at a nuclear missile site near Heilbronn, Germany. In a letter to his mother, the serviceman said he expects to be home on a month's furlough in July.
The 22-year-old soldier, who with Melvin T. Gillie, president, enlisted in the Army 11 months ago, had been stationed overseas since completing nuclear missile technician's training at Sandia Base, N. M., early last November. Club a marathon boat race on May 21.
City high school, Bjorkman attended Central College at Fayette, Mo., and Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus service in the Granite City school at Alton prior to enlisting.

Legion to Observe 48th Year with Dinner-Dance
Tri-City American Legion Post 113 will celebrate the 48th anniversary of the Legion with a corned beef and cabbage dinner and dance at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the post home, Wilbert Niepert, commander, announced.
All members, their families and friends are invited to attend.
The Legion was founded in March 1919 and was chartered by the U. S. Congress in September of that year. Niepert said that the organization was formed by Gen. John J. Pershing.
The first meeting was held in Paris, France, with less than 200 members who were still wearing the uniform of their country.
Since that time, the American Legion has grown to be the largest veterans organization in the world, Niepert said, and influences legislation in favor of veterans and their families.
Legislation which has seen many beneficial gains to veterans are the GI Bill of Rights, the Junior GI Bill, and veterans preference for seeking government employment and veterans hospitalization, he added.
In explaining various American Legion activities in the local area, Niepert said that much of the money obtained by various Legion activities here is used for nurses scholarships, Legion baseball and Illinois Boys Town. He added that funds are expended by the local post for veterans and members in distress.
The commander urged all members of past years who have not yet paid their dues for 1967 to do so immediately so the post may reach its 1967 quota.

Pvt. Bob Simon Designs Insignia for Astronauts

His drawing skill led Fort Lee, Va., Pvt. Charles R. "Bob" Simon into a personal association with two of America's astronauts in the recent Gemini series of space flights.

This came about when astronauts Charles "Pete" Conrad and Richard Gordon chose Bob Simon's shoulder insignia design as the patch they would wear on their Gemini 11 launch into space.

At the time, Pvt. Simon, of Co. B, 3rd Battalion, Quartermaster School, Brigade, was employed as a technical illustrator with the McDonnell-Douglas Co. The St. Louis, engineering firm engages in government contract work, a part of which deals with the nation's space program.

Personal Acquaintance
Pvt. Simon came to know the astronauts personally when the two were in St. Louis to discuss engineering details pertaining to their forthcoming flight. While there, they expressed a desire for appropriate insignia. Several illustrators got to work on designs, and that which Bob Simon came up with was the one the astronauts selected.

Pvt. Simon was greatly impressed by the spacemen's intense dedication to their work. He has also met some of the other astronauts and says that each, without exception, displayed this same zeal.

Gemini 11 was next to the last of the Gemini flights and was one in which the astronauts space vehicle accomplished a rendezvous with an Agena spacecraft high above the earth. The patch Pvt. Simon designed shows the launching, the joining of the two orbiting craft, and an astronaut "walking in space" while connected by an "umbilical" to his bell-shaped capsule.

The design also displays the Roman numeral "XI." The background is deep blue with white stars, representing the heavens; the earth is white and gold; the blastoff is shown in white; and the spacecraft and astronaut are also white.

The path of the orbit as well as the astronaut's lifeline are traced in gold. The numeral is done in gold, while the names at the bottom of the patch are in white. Then entire patch bears a gold border.

Outstanding Success
Gemini 11 was an outstanding success. The docking with the Agena took place during the first orbit of the Gemini vehicle. The earliest previous link-up had taken three orbits. (A prime purpose of the series was to refine docking techniques, necessary to the subsequent Apollo moon flight program.)

The venture into space was highlighted by the command pilot, Conrad, leaving his capsule to attach a 100-foot line from the Agena. During three days of circling the earth, the astronauts reached an apogee 850 miles above the earth—higher than anyone had ever been before.

While attending Granite City high school, Pvt. Simon took all the drawing instruction available. After graduating, he went to work for the nearby engineering firm in their Aero-Space Center. He states that his employers were engaged in designing all of the space vehicles used in the Gemini series.

Besides doing the shoulder insignia for Gemini 11, Pvt. Simon made color acetate transparencies for use with film projection equipment, and did "animated" drawings depicting such things as astronauts emerging from space capsules in flight, and walking in space.

These drawings are used for "proposal work," showing aeronautical engineering concepts which government space program officials might wish to adopt. To improve his capabilities, he took courses in technical illustrating at the Washington University school of fine arts in St. Louis.

The 20-year-old native of Granite City entered the Army last November. He went to Fort Lee upon completing his basic training at Fort Lewis, Wash., in January. He is currently enrolled in a memorial activities class in the Quartermaster school. This is related to past experience he has had in funeral work. While in Granite City, he was employed part-time with Mercer's Mortuary.

Pvt. Simon is married to the former Judith Ann Hall of East St. Louis. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Simon, reside at 4047 Stearns avenue.

Checkerboard Squares to Perform for Servicemen

The Checkerboard Squares and Shelly Boyd, 10-year-old baller, recently presented their initial performance of an hour and 15-minute continuous show at the Scott Air Force Base service club.

The show includes dialogues, pantomimes and skits as well as the many styles of dances for which the Checkerboards have become noted.

The show was the culmination of many weeks of planning and work by the local group to elevate the Checkerboards from a dance group to a show troupe to fulfill their pledge to do something for the country, especially servicemen.

The Checkerboards, with the Boyd girl doing the calling, have pledged to give service clubs and military hospitals first priority in scheduling shows this year. However, commitments already-made will be fulfilled and include the following:

Friday—Presenting American square dancing at the Folk Dance Festival portion of the Fine Arts Week being held at Assumption high school, East St. Louis.

March 18—A representative group will participate in the Iowa State Square Dance convention at Davenport, Iowa.

May 6—The Checkerboard Squares and Shelly Boyd will perform two exhibitions, afternoon and evening, at the Illinois State Federation Festival to be held at Lincoln.

June 28—The group goes to Philadelphia, Pa., to attend the 16th National Square Dance convention where it will perform exhibitions June 28-30 and July 1 in the evenings. The group also is to present a two-hour show at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Philadelphia on the afternoon of June 29.

Several other inquiries for the group have been received from the eastern part of the U. S., the division operating, both administratively and tactically, made until vacation schedules and port to units within the division.

Talk of the Campus

Tom Murphy Gains Edge On Twin Brother at SIU

Thomas F. Murphy has finally stolen a march on Edwin W. Murphy, and it's the talk of the campus at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

The Murphys are identical twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Murphy sr., 2412 Lincoln avenue. Mr. Murphy is store-room foreman at the blast furnace division, Granite City Steel Co.

Both boys are juniors, majoring in printing management. Both have carried maximum hours, have been on the dean's list each of their eight quarters in school, and have had identical grades-up until the fall quarter which ended with the Christmas vacation. Each was carrying a tremendous class load of 21 hours, but Ed stubbed his toe on an exam question.

Tom made perfect grades for the quarter, a straight five point, while Ed had to be content with a 4.8.

Ed made perfect grades five of his eight quarters in school.

Tom made a straight A six 17,000 students on the Carbondale campus made five points during the fall term.

The Murphy twins graduated from the Granite City high school. Tom Murphy has a bit of advice for people just starting university life: "Mainly, just study. Corporation Deadline For '66 Returns Nears

Wednesday, March 15, is the deadline for several Federal tax obligations of corporations reporting on a calendar-year basis.

Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said that corporations must file a 1966 income tax return, Form 1120, or an application for extension, Form 706, by this date. They also must pay at least 50% of the balance of the tax due at the time the return is filed or the extension is requested.

Corporations which have elected not to be taxed as corporations must file a Form 1120-S by that date. Unincorporated businesses which have elected to be taxed as corporations must file 1966 income tax returns, Forms 1120, or applications for extension of Forms 706, together with a payment of at least 50% of the balance of income tax due. This return must contain a statement that is filed in accordance with Section 1361 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Document No. 5180, "Corporations," which furnishes detailed information on this subject, may be obtained by dropping a post card to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Springfield, Ill., 62704.

MANPOWER FOR BOOK COLLECTION

is available in abundance, judging by this turnout of cub scouts in dens supervised by Mrs. Virginia Dick, den mother.

Books for the SIU-SW library and being collected through March 25 at the Lincoln Place community center, Washington theatre and all Madison and Venice schools. Granite City school's book collection day is March 17.

Variety of Items Needed at SIU-SW Library

Old patent medicine advertisements, sheet music, aged fashion magazines, family tintype albums—all can be found in a university library. It was noted today by John C. Abbott, director of Lovejoy Library at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

And just such things as these—and many other items of a nature not usually associated with the public with a library. "Harvest of Books" being conducted in the Quad-Cities area by the Madison Rotary Club and cooperating agencies for the university library.

"A library collects many items associated with everyday life that the average person doesn't dream of," Dr. Abbott pointed out this week in connection with the drive for books and other library materials which continues in this area through March 25.

Denote Life, Customs

The term "other library materials" covers a multitude of items, the Lovejoy Library director stated. In general they include materials which give an insight into the life and customs of a particular period.

"Only if we keep these things," he said, "can we provide students and researchers of the future a graphic picture of what a certain phase of life was like in the past. Great-Grandma's tintype, for instance, tells us not only about fashion and hair styles but also is a part of the history of the development of photography. Of course, all such family pictures and documents are far more valuable if identified.

"The old jazz phonograph record of the '20s tell us about music of the period, and the quality of the sound reproduction provides us a clear idea of one of the various stages in development of the recording industry. So it goes with many, many items a library collects."

The director of Lovejoy Library, who has supervised the building of an always-growing 265,000-volume collection for the southwestern campus and Alton and East St. Louis centers in the past eight years, also emphasized the importance of the library of all items relating to local and area history.

Undergraduate and graduate students now and in the future need to have access to basic source materials relating to the history of all communities in the entire area served by the university," Dr. Abbott said.

Histories of Organizations

"Basic source materials are personal papers, diaries, letters, manuscripts, histories of organizations and of various immigrant religious or racial groups and photographs pertaining to any phase of local history, or indicative of any particular period."

An example of great progress made in one of these areas, Dr. Abbott said, is the collection during the past year and a half of several thousand books, papers, records and documents pertaining to Slavic groups in the area.

"The story of the immigrants from Slavic countries to our area and what they did here is an important part of the story of the development of this area," he stated, "and we are interested in all materials relating to these or any other immigrant or racial groups." Stanley Kimball, history professor at the university, and the history club sponsors, have been a moving force in this collection, he added.

In other areas, the university has begun the building of what the university hopes will become an outstanding Mississippi River

Alderman Johnson, chairman of the Fire committee, said the repair work is expected to be costly. Johnson also reported the city's new 85-foot aerial ladder truck, costing $43,864, may be delivered late this month. It was ordered in February 1966. The need for a 500-gallon water storage tank at the city hall to equalize water pressure in the building was recommended by Alderman Bartoski, chairman of the City Buildings committee.

Governor Could Get Some Reforms

By SEN. PAUL SIMON

An unusual contribution by some Illinois industrial leaders has resulted in a series of recommendations which they say will save the state in excess of $30 million a year.

My impression is that that estimate is a very conservative figure.

At the request of Gov. Otto Kerner, a group of 84 leading Illinois business firms leading money and manpower to a management study of state government, and the result can only be viewed as a sound one.

Among their suggestions (with my comments on their possible success in parentheses):

1. Issue license plates for five years, with stickers to be placed in the windshield indicating annual renewal. (This has been suggested before and is strongly supported by the police in order to those interested in economy, but in the past has always met resistance from whoever was Secretary of State, Chances: less than 50-50.)
2. Place all state employees below the policy-making level under civil service. (Unfettered, this could be the most fundamental reform of state government in this session. If the Governor really fights for this and gives it more than lip service, it will take place.)
3. Steps should be taken toward a mandatory retirement age for state employees. (This has always been strongly resisted by state employees, but if it can be put into effect gradually the results would be healthy for state government.

(Chances: 80-20. If it is made gradual, strengthening of the retirement system would improve its chances.)

4. Require centralized purchasing for all elected officials as well as the Governor's office. (An excellent recommendation, it probably will be strongly resisted. Chances: very poor.)
5. Increase fees for various licenses and services, such as the person who wants the same number again for his automobile license plate.

(This has been proposed a number of times but has always failed. It is not hard to see why, but it is hard to see why it should be required of those who want their same number back again, so that the additional costs can be covered. Chances: excellent if really backed by the Governor, if not.)

6. Require state-owned vehicles to purchase gasoline through state facilities. (Much of this has already been done, but some items purchased outside indicate that substantial savings can be experienced. Chances: reasonably good.)

These are among the suggestions made in the 83-page report presented to the Governor.

The report also contains a list of 100 items which the Governor should be expected to consider. If its recommendations should be adopted, the taxpayers will be the chief beneficiaries.

State Funds Important to Schools

By CLAUDIA BIKE

University of Illinois Student "If the state doesn't take large steps in finance, not much will be done with consolidating districts," in the view of Dr. William P. McClure, director of the Task Force on Education, which has investigated needed changes in elementary and secondary education.

Consolidation of county offices into regional districts and of local districts has been proposed, but implementation according to the wishes of the people will only take place if incentives are provided.

Now local districts get two-thirds of their operating expenses and capital outlay from the people of the property tax in the district.

Property income has not increased along with rises in wage income.

Only in a few communities does the property tax base have the capacity to carry the major share of the support.

Some Urges Income Tax

So, the schools have become involved in disputes over reform of the tax system.

Many have suggested a state income tax, which if passed by the legislature might help solve school problems.

One major thing the state doesn't do is allow for capital outlay. All of the money for land, buildings and furnishings must come locally, and for this reason school districts are forced to issue bonds.

According to McClure, state grants-in-aid to schools are not enough. He would like to see the federal government take the lead in this. "I'm inclined to think that the latter is what we'll get," he says.

Strings on Federal Aid

There are more than 150 types of federal grants, with "strings" attached to every grant. McClure remarks: "He would like to see the federal government return money to the state with no strings."

If 3% of the income tax were returned, all states could provide a quality state operating allowance of $800 per pupil.

Right now, Illinois is operating on what is considered a minimum allowance of $330.

State Budget Director Ray has proposed to raise the allowance to $400, and the Task Force has suggested an increase to $600, which would mean a hike in annual state investment from the present $244,115,000 to $461,000,000.

"I'll be greatly disappointed if we don't get quite a bit out of this legislative session," says McClure. He thinks there is a possibility much of the legislation on education will be referred to a special session.

Rip Van Winkle in the 21st Century

(BELLE, MO, BANNER)

The wire service tells us of a 25-year-old German pianist-singer who is willing to let himself be deep-frozen and then thawed out 50 years hence. He believes that in half-a-century the world will be a better place to live in.

Would he, we ask, make such a suggestion, had he ever read that famous history, written well over a century ago, which told the tale of a man who allowed himself to be put to sleep in 1800, but, for a mere 207

Remember how it went, when this man returned to his old haunts:

"A troop of straggling children ran at his heels, hooting after him and pointing at his grey beard."

State Ban on Studded Snow Tires

(TRI-CITY AND ILL. BAR ASSOCIATIONS)

Illinois is one of 16 states of the United States which prohibit the use of studded tires as a winter-driving safety measure.

A studded tire is one which is equipped with small metallic anti-skid devices which are imbedded in the rubber of the tire. The studs are designed to increase friction between the tire and icy or snow-covered road surfaces.

(A bill to repeal the Illinois ban has been introduced at Springfield.)

Barred In Midwest

Four states in the Midwest—Illinois, Iowa, Indiana and Michigan—have laws forbidding the use of studded tires.

The Illinois statute reads:

"No motor vehicle shall be operated upon the improved highways of the state which shall be equipped with any anti-skid device so constructed that any rigid or non-flexible

"The dogs, too, not one of which was recognized for an acquaintance, barked at him as he passed."

"The village was altered; it was larger and more populous than it had been when the doors-strange faces at the windows—everything was strange."

If this is what happened to Rip Van Winkle after only 20 years of slumber—and we have Washington Irving's solemn assurance that he was not dead, the world seem like to young Wilfred Laurier in A.D. 2017?

In these days of rapid change, we believe he would do better to grow used to such change gradually, along with the rest of us. It's much easier on one, as old Rip discovered.

Questionable Ruling on Living Costs

Favors Northern Illinois Nursing Homes

Public aid recipients treated in Illinois nursing homes qualify for $175 monthly base support, or $200 or $236 for intermediate and advanced types of care—except in Cook county and environs, where the comparable figures are $195, $231 and $255.

The differential assumes that living costs are high in the big city, Chicago, and comparatively low in rural Illinois, defined for administrative convenience as the entire downstate area outside of Cook, Lake, DuPage and Kane counties. This "ain't necessarily so," and an executive or legislative change should be made to help reverse a trend that has seen more and more nursing homes in effect bar the door to aged persons on public aid.

As James Myrick of Granite City, operator of Alton and Caseyville nursing homes, points out, St. Louis food prices on the 21 largest U.S. cities in December 1966 and its consumer price index for all of last year exceeded the average for major metropolitan areas.

If there is no difference in the cost of living between the Chicago area and Madison and St. Clair counties, Cook county institutions are being shown undeserved favoritism by the state—and local senior citizens without funds may have a diminishing opportunity for shelter in nursing homes.

Wide Variety of Recreation, Fitness Programs at YMCA

Inauguration of the spring activity schedule at the YMCA, planned for March 13, calls attention to the unusual scope and depth of the programs being offered to local children, youths and adults.

In addition to recreation, health and physical fitness goals, the "Y" is making it possible for residents to take a variety of instruction courses. State Budget Director Ray comments that the program is a commendable effort to help individuals progress at their own speed.

YMCA membership continues to be offered at low rates. With the expansion of facilities and programs, it is becoming a bigger bargain than ever before.

Fall Municipal Election Could Increase 'Coalition' Victories

It is difficult to accept the reasoning of the Illinois Municipal Problems Commission that city elections should be held in November or to take advantage of the large presidential-gubernatorial senatorial voting turnout.

Current legislation based on this recommendation fails to take into account the likelihood that election of municipal officials would become more intertwined with partisan politics than at present. Local issues conceivably might be crowded out, with some aspirants carrying into office the cantails of popular state or national candidates.

With steps being taken locally to avoid duplicate April city and township polling places, wherever possible, another possible argument for switching the municipal election date is being removed.

A factor being cited is the practice of some General Assembly members to absent themselves frequently about this time of the year in order to give political help in their home areas to municipal candidates. If city voting took place in the fall, there would be no conflict with the January-February legislative sessions. But we can see little necessity for legislators to participate extensively in such elections; they ought to stay in Springfield whenever the volume of business there warrants their presence.

Uniform National Daylight Time Nearing Attainment

The U. S. House of Representatives should resist efforts by 18 of its members to alter the daylight saving time law scheduled to go into effect April 1.

The 1966 statute calls for clocks throughout the U. S. to be advanced one hour between the last Sunday in March and the last Sunday in October, except in states where the legislature votes otherwise. It specifies that time must be uniform throughout a state.

No states have voted to exempt themselves from the law, which continues the four basic time zones made necessary by the earth's eastward rotation. There is hope that no such actions will be taken, though there is still a possibility of January-February legislative sessions. But we can see little necessity for legislators to participate extensively in such elections; they ought to stay in Springfield whenever the volume of business there warrants their presence.

Other than clarification of its effect in states where two sun-dictated time areas exist, the law ought to be allowed to become effective without tampering.

National time uniformity would be a great convenience to Americans, particularly those who do much work traveling and the nearly unanimous support so far indicates that most citizens are aware of its advantages.

Accurate Forecaster in 1929, 1967

The late Roger W. Babson, whose annual economic forecasts have appeared in the Press-Record prior to each New Year's Day, established himself as one of the most astute business analysts by predicting the 1929 stock market crash.

Prior to his death March 5 at the age of 92, Mr. Babson had foreseen for 1967 the "breathing spell" in economic activity that has now developed; in predicting a mild downturn but no depression, he warned against major governmental response that would "treat a case of pneumonia when cold pills would be more appropriate."

His down-to-earth, easy-to-grasp opinions, coupled with an ability to weigh all factors in a way that would lead to the right rather than wrong answers, will be missed.

Korean Emergency Still in Effect

(DEPARTMENT OF STATE)

On Dec. 16, 1950, President Harry S. Truman issued Presidential Proclamation 2814 designating a national emergency due to the Korean conflict.

I was recently told that this proclamation has never been rescinded or nullified. Is this true?

Dear Mr. F.:

The state of national emergency declared by President Truman on Dec. 16, 1950, has not been terminated.

It has, rather, been confirmed and used by succeeding presidents to enforce the virtual embargo applied against Communist China, North Korea, North Vietnam and Cuba by the United States.

In other words, while we are not at war, we are—and have been since 1950—in a state of national emergency.

My organization is interested in current information on the changes in liability limits of the Warsaw Convention, relating to aircraft accidents on international flights.

We're particularly interested in whether the $75,000 liability limit has been accepted and whether it retains an automatic pay-out feature.

Do you have an inquiry?

Enclosed are copies of two State Department press releases which describe the current status of the present interim arrangement for liability protection under the Warsaw Convention.

Your attention is drawn to the point that the arrangement relates only to the limitation of liability for provable damage.

Thus, unlike trip insurance or other forms of life insurance, the present arrangement does not contain any automatic payment feature.

While it is expected that the principal family breadwinners will in many cases be offered the maximum recovery without need for litigation, non-wage earners, children or elderly people would generally not be entitled to the $75,000 amount.

It is also to be noted that the effect of the absolute liability feature, in other words, is simply to eliminate the issue of fault of the airline in determining the amount of recovery to accident victims or their survivors would be entitled.

Past Matrons Plan Party

Lenten Quiet Hour Observed

A Lenten quiet hour was the highlight of the meeting of the Evening Guild of St. Peter's United Church of Christ Monday evening in the church sanctuary.

The meditation, entitled "Let Us Remember Him," was led by Mrs. Pat Malotki, assisted by Mrs. Melba Tarpoft, Mrs. Frances Knobloch and Mrs. Esther Zimmer. In connection with the service Mrs. Lauretta Wright sang, "Be still my soul" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Jackie Little.

A business meeting followed the service in the sanctuary with Mrs. Joyce Watson, president, in charge. Plans were made for a visit to the Hitz Memorial Home in Alhambra April 12, and a contribution was made to the church office equipment fund. The members also were reminded of "blanket Sunday" for Church World Service this coming Sunday.

The guild will entertain the Evening Guild of St. John's United Church of Christ and the Afternoon Guild of St. Peter's at the next meeting when Miss Hedwig Schaefer, a missionary to India, will be guest speaker.

The hostess committee, com-

The Past Matrons Club of Granite Chapter 650, Order of Eastern Star, was entertained Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Hannah Kleinschmidt, 2251 Edison avenue.

Plans were made at the meeting for the annual past-matrons and past patrons party to be held at the Rose Bowl April 1. This will take the place of the April meeting of the club.

Refreshments were served to 13 members and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Clara Harbig, Mrs. Sadie Jones, and Mrs. Kathryn Edmonds.

Others present at Monday's meeting were Mrs. Golda Bieser, Mrs. Ida Curtis, Mrs. Arline Fox, Mrs. Bess Henley, Mrs. Dorothy Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Hulda Griffin, Mrs. Virginia John, Mrs. Garnet Kelson and Mrs. Mary Ellen Lewis.

posed of Mrs. Freda Bennington, Mrs. Clara Ledbetter, Misses Ann and Myrtle Soebig and Mrs. Genevieve Grady, served refreshments to 33, including two guests, Mrs. Leonard Davis and Mrs. Robert Baumann. The tables were decorated with a variety of spring flowers.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS FOR SON'S BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. James Foley, 2597 Lynch avenue, entertained guests at an afternoon and evening open house this week in honor of the first birthday of their son, Mark.

Guests present were the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Towandic and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foley, Steven Rydigg, Mr. and Mrs. William Gusheliff, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Groves and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foley and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Ropac and children, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jakovac and family, Mrs. Ellen Creamer, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Lallach and son.

By the Book. The fellow who stays on the level in his journey through life is no miracle man—he just uses plenty of common sense and sound reasoning.

Ingredients. Good driving requires both skill and judgment—more accidents are caused by lack of judgment than by lack of skill.

Miss Hamilton Is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hamilton, 1917 Fifth street, Madison, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marilyn Kay Hamilton, to Larry Lee Beyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip M. Beyer jr. of Route Four, Edwardsville. The bride to be, a 1966 graduate of the Madison high school, is now employed in the book-keeping department of the First National Bank in Madison. Her fiancé was graduated from Edwardsville high school. He is an employee of the Surplus Store here. The wedding date has not been set.

RHEUMATIC FEVER IS ALWAYS DANGEROUS

It is now believed that rheumatic fever is caused by the same streptococcus germ which causes a strep throat. It can make a child or adult tired and have painful joints or abdominal tenderness.

More serious results occur. The illness inflames the heart's mitral valve, Scar tissue can form and permanent damage may result. Worse yet, a child does not grow out of this and can get rheumatic fever over and over again. Physicians know these dangers, but can protect you most if they are consulted about any sore throat as soon as possible.

Brighter, Bigger White Way Sought

Under study by the Light committee of the Granite City council is a request from downtown merchants for an expanded and brighter white way system in the business district.

Alderman Basarich, chairman, said he has conferred with officials of Illinois Power Co. and the added cost to the city for electricity would be about $200 a month. The added lights would be on fringe areas and in alleys.

The present system of 122 lights of 20,000 lumen each would be expanded to 159 lights of 55,000 lumen.

Basarich also reported that the power company has recommended a 20,000 lumen light at the GMAO depot, 20th and railroad tracks, which also would replace a street light of 4,000 lumen across the street.

Joe the Tailor Observing 50th Year in the Business

Within the past 50 years, changes in the men's clothing and tailoring industry appear enormous. At first glance, surprisingly, however, some similarities can be found, according to Joe the Tailor, who has stood up by themselves since 1917.

Joseph H. Michels, known to his customers and many friends in the Quad-Cities simply as Joe the Tailor, this week is observing the 50th anniversary of his start as an apprentice tailor. At the age of 14, he began his apprenticeship in Lugau, Hungary, on March 3, 1917.

To mark the anniversary, his wife, Anna, and a daughter, Mrs. Raymond (Josephine) Uram, plan to hold open house between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. Friday, and 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. Saturday, at his place of business, 1922 State street.

Many old friends and customers are expected to be on hand for coffee, punch and homemade delicacies during the two-day celebration.

In discussing his early years, Michels emphasizes details of the story with his grandsons, who he quickly points out to listeners are the same shears used by his grandfather on the day he started out as a tailor's apprentice.

Owned Tools of Trade
"In those days, you had to take with you all the tools of the trade, including your own needles and scissors," he relates. "Those were the years of world war one and everything was in very short supply. Even thread was unobtainable and I remember my father from pillow cases, dipping it into blue ink as a dye, so we could finish sewing some articles of clothing."

Comparing men's clothing fashions then and now, Michels pointed out a recent copy of tailoring trade magazine which depicted considerable space to a new line of paper fabric clothing for men. "I recall making clothing out of 100% paper in Lugau 50 years ago. It was blue pinstriped paper and the trousers were so stiff they stood up by themselves," he commented.

Asked how the forerunner of today's synthetic material wore, or what occurred when the suits were exposed to rain, Michels said, "I don't remember that, I think they were all right for a short while, but I still can hear the sound that paper made—popping like a machine gun—while we were sewing the suits to gether."

Came Here in 1922
Born in Gielzofalva, Hungary, in 1903, Michels came to Granite City in 1922. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Michels sr., already were here and had left the young Joseph with his grandparents in Hungary. His parents later moved from the Quad-Cities to Trenton, N. J., where his stepmother still lives.

The tailor completed his apprenticeship in three years and after his arrival here worked for Fleishman's Men's store until 1933 when he opened his own shop above his former employer's. In 1939, he moved his business place to the 1200 block of 18th street and remained at that location until 1960 when he opened Joe Michels' Men's shop at the present location.

Since 1946, Michels has had the assistance of Mrs. Beryl Roy, 226 Nevada avenue, an expert seamstress, who helps him with alterations and other tailoring chores. He and his wife, Anna, have worked side-by-side for many years. They were married May 8, 1926, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Mrs. Michels, who also arrived in Granite City in 1922, coming here from near Munich, Bavaria, became a citizen in 1928. Her husband, whose native land was divided following world war one, experienced some technical difficulty with his naturalization papers due to his former country's change of name and received his citizenship papers in 1932.

The couple moved into their present home at 2688 Iowa street in 1928 and in the same year joined Sacred Heart Church, where Michels serves as treasurer of the church's Holy Name Society.

He also is a Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, Tri-Cities Council 1088, in which he served for ten years as trustee, and holds membership in the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and Associated Retailers and Civic Association.

First Impression of U. S.
He recalls vividly, "when I first came from Europe. How backwards we seemed over there compared to the new America. Men here produced three or four times more goods and made three or four times more money."

"After being here only two years, I was producing as much work in one day I had in one week in the old country," Michels said. "It seems like it's been 100 years and they still produce the same quantity by the same method as they did when I left there. They have always been very quality minded in Europe, but you see only the professional men, such as doctors or lawyers, could afford tailored clothes over there."

"In those years, even over here, all that men's clothes sold were blue and gray serge and overcoats. None of the summer-weight suits and jackets, or

HOLDING THE SHEARS given him by his grandfather when starting as an apprentice tailor 50 years ago this week, Joe Michels recalls many experiences of the past five decades. His half-century in the trade will be celebrated with an open house tomorrow and Saturday at his business place, 1922 State street.

The 50,000 different items he plained "due to the slim diet of the war years, Joe was forced to eat so much cornbread, we just don't mention it to him even today, it bothers him so."

Besides Mrs. Uram, Mr. and Mrs. Michels have another daughter, Mrs. (Mildred) Stoffler of Greeley, Colo. They also have nine grandchildren, John, 17, son of Mrs. Uram, Mr. and Mrs. Michael, 12, Joey, nine, Mary Margaret, 15, and Ann Marie, seven, children of Mr. and Mrs. Uram, 2418 Lynch avenue; and the Stoffler children, Michael, 13 years, Stephen, 12, Danny, 11, and Patrick, six.

Michels also has a daughter here, John Michels, 1728 Fifth street, Madison, an employee of the city of Madison.

City Oks Shriners' Parade, Poppy Days, DeMolay Week

Granite City council members approved three requests submitted Monday night—the Annual Shrine parade on May 6, American Legion Post 113 Auxiliary Poppy Days on May 25 and 26 and for DeMolays to take over major city offices next Wednesday during an observance of DeMolay Week.

The Annual Temple Shrine parade—a large production—will honor Almad Potente, Roy of the Shrine of Granite City. The motorized units will begin on Broadway in Venice and proceed along Madison avenue in Madison into Granite City and will be joined by marching units on 19th street at Grand avenue.

All units will proceed west to Niedringhaus and double back on Niedringhaus to Madison avenue where they will proceed north, with the marching units dropping out at 24th street and the motorized units continuing north to Nameoki road and on the Tri Mo Bowl parking lot to disband.

Bicycle Vandalism
Richard Ahlvers, 2000 St. Clair avenue, reported at 9:20 p.m. Monday that when he left St. John's United Church of Christ, he found that someone had broken the control cables on the hand brakes of his bicycle and bent the fenders.

Venice Township Budget $180,269; Drop of $8092

A tentative budget setting up total expenditures of $180,269 for the year 1967-68 year was up for public inspection Monday for Venice township. The new budget and appropriation is a decrease of $8092 below last year's figures.

The budget will be subject to approval March 28 in a public hearing at the Venice township office at 7 p.m.

Appropriated items in the town fund, general assistance fund and road and bridge fund show only slight change from last year's figures. Principal part of the decrease is in the general assistance fund which was $103,260 last year. The new figure for the 1967-68 fiscal year is $102,458.

The town fund appropriation of $54,548 is $52 less than last year's figure of $54,600, while the road and bridge fund appropriation of $23,141 is up only $150 over last year's figure of $22,991.

Two Items Cut
Nearly all of the decrease in the general assistance fund is represented in only two items: the budget for rent for relief clients cut from $7000 last year to $5000 this year, and the budget for payments to private hospitals for medical care which was trimmed from $25,000 last year to $20,000 this year.

The slightly increased road and bridge fund provides for expenditure of $13,329 for maintenance, up $150 from last year's $13,170; $6042 for road oiling (same as last year) and $833 for weed control, also the same as last year.

The road and bridge fund also includes a contingent fund of $500, unchanged from last year. The town fund budget of $54,548 is broken down into $22,991 for salaries of township officials, unchanged from last year's budget; $19,370 for town officers' expenses, compared to $21,400 last year; $7400 for other services, down $300, and contingency $2600, same as last year.

List Relief Costs
Appropriations in the general assistance fund totaling $95,070, include $51,600 for general relief purposes, compared to $54,600 last year; $22,100 for hospitalization, down $5000; $300 for transient cases, unchanged; $500 for general assistance, unchanged; $4000 for contingencies, unchanged.

The Municipal Retirement Fund appropriation of $7510 is $500, unchanged from last year.

The letter for Poppy Day sales was sent to the council by Mrs. Pauline Birks, president of Legion Auxiliary 113, and Mrs. Mildred Rees, Poppy chairman.

The DeMolay's letter from advisor Charles Meyer thanked the council and mayor for proclaiming DeMolay Week next Wednesday and asked that DeMolays assume city duties next Wednesday in the offices of mayor, clerk, treasurer, controller, fire chief and police chief.

Shriners to Sponsor 3-Day Circus in June

The Almad Temple of East St. Louis will sponsor a three-day circus to be held on June 10-11-12 at the Belle-Clair grounds at Belleville. It was announced Monday by Roy L. Williams Jr., potentate.

Clyde Bros. Circus will perform two shows on Saturday, three on Sunday and one Monday night. The three-day event will open with a parade through Belleville.

Salaries for town officials are the same as last year. These include town clerk, $2400; assessor, $900; highway commissioner, $900; board of auditors, $100; supervisor of general assistance, $500; town collector, $400; and health officer, $100.

For hospitalization purposes in the general assistance budget, a total of $20,000 is provided for payments to private hospitals, down $5000 from last year; $2000 for convalescent homes, unchanged; and $100 for ambulance service, also unchanged.

Administration costs of the general assistance fund includes salaries of $13,400, unchanged from last year.
